Golf with Style

A few weeks ago I turned on the Golf Channel to see the Top 10 segment. Golf fashions were being reviewed by a couple of the announcers! I waited for the show to begin expecting to see a clip of Paula Creamer in her latest pink outfit with all of the matching accessories. To my surprise the all male panel of announcers reviewed the outfits of male professional golfers over the years! Wow - things are really changing. First of all I did not expect to see men's fashions being reviewed let alone by an all male panel. I was very impressed.

Ladies, we are not the only ones wanting to bring a sense of fashion to the golf course. On display for all to see were the latest pink golf pants for men - recently worn by Ian Poulter at the British Open, lime green shirts being sported by Sergio and a sea of orange as well. Golf fashions have come along way since the original Arnold Palmer brown plaid pants!

Check out the latest colours, styles and designs sported by some of the LPGA players. These ladies know how to dress for success on the golf course! For the recreational golfer, the game should be fun and you should feel comfortable and confident when you play. If you feel good and look good when you go out to play you will bring a positive attitude to your game. If adding to your golf wardrobe isn't in your budget each season, look for a fun, colourful new golf glove or a great pair of stylish shoes to jazz up your game.
